1. List five warning signs of stroke.
   a. ______________________________________________________________________
   b. ______________________________________________________________________
   c. ______________________________________________________________________
   d. ______________________________________________________________________
   e. ______________________________________________________________________

2. All stroke-like symptoms signal the need for ______________________________________________________________________.

3. List four signs and symptoms of Parkinson’s disease.
   a. ______________________________________________________________________
   b. ______________________________________________________________________
   c. ______________________________________________________________________
   d. ______________________________________________________________________

4. Symptoms of multiple sclerosis usually start between the ages of ____________.

5. Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS) attacks the nerve cells that control ____________.

6. Define these terms:
   a. Coma ___________________________________________________________________
   b. Vegetative state ___________________________________________________________________
   c. Brain death ___________________________________________________________________

7. A spinal cord injury usually results from ______________________________________________________________________.

8. With spinal cord injury, damage to the spinal cord can be complete or incomplete. Describe what occurs when the damage is complete.
9. Joint replacement surgery (arthroplasty) is done to:
   a. ________________________________________________________________
   b. ________________________________________________________________
   c. ________________________________________________________________

10. Describe an open (compound) fracture.
    ________________________________________________________________
    ________________________________________________________________

11. Fractures in infants may signal _________________________________.

12. A patient is recovering from a hip fracture. After surgery, the person needs to keep the operated leg ____________________________ at all times.

13. __________________________ is a condition in which there is death of tissue.

14. A prosthesis is ________________________________________________________.