Sorrentino: Mosby’s Textbook for Nursing Assistants, 9th Edition

Chapter 47: Urinary and Reproductive Disorders

Student Assignment

Date: ______________ Name: _____________________________

COMPLETION

1. Common causes of urinary tract infections (UTIs) include ________________________________________________________________.

2. ____________________________________ increases the risk of UTI in older men.

3. Pyuria means __________________________________________.

4. __________________________ means blood in the urine.

5. If untreated, cystitis can lead to ________________________________.

6. Benign prostatic hypertrophy is another name for ________________________________.

7. A urostomy is ________________________________________________.

8. How often are urostomy pouches changed?

   ______________________________________________________________________

9. List the risk factors for kidney stones.
   a. ______________________________________________________________________
   b. ______________________________________________________________________
   c. ______________________________________________________________________

10. Treatment for acute kidney failure involves:
   a. ______________________________________________________________________
   b. ______________________________________________________________________
   c. ______________________________________________________________________

11. ____________________________________ removes waste and fluid by filtering the blood through an artificial kidney.

12. List four ways that a person could contract a sexually transmitted disease (STD):
   a. ______________________________________________________________________
   b. ______________________________________________________________________
   c. ______________________________________________________________________ d.

