Sorrentino: Mosby’s Textbook for Nursing Assistants, 9th Edition

Chapter 06: Student and Work Ethics

Student Assignment

Date: ___________ Name: _____________________________

COMPLETION

1. Being dependable means
   ___________________________________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________________.

2. Being cooperative means
   ___________________________________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________________.

3. Explain why your appearance is important at work.
   ___________________________________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________________

4. What is burnout?
   ___________________________________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________________

5. Who should you share a person’s information with?
   ___________________________________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________________

   ___________________________________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________________

7. To gossip means to ______________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________________.

8. Nail polish is not worn to work because _____________________________________
   ____________________________________________________________________________.

9. What are some ways to reduce or cope with stress?
   ___________________________________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________________
   ___________________________________________________________________________
10. _________________________ and good work ethics help prevent and resolve conflicts.